

WARNING:

Please read this to know your rights!

We did our research to let you know what options you have when it comes to pain relievers for electrolysis. Now you need to experiment to find out what works for you.

These drugs help some people and may not work for others because we all are different from each other. That's why you need to do your homework to find out which fits your personal needs.

We do not take any responsibilities for your experiments. You need to do your own experimenting to find out what works for you. Your doctor can also give you a good advice or even a prescription. We've had clients who came for electrolysis treatment with already numbed cheeks by thier own physician.

You are doing it it your own risk.

SUGGESTIONS FOR OVER THE COUNTER PAINKILLERS

Here are some tips and tricks for sensitive body areas.

Some people find Tylenol or Advil extremely helpful to reduce the pain. You can take them at the same time or separately 1 hour before the treatment.

Acetaminophen is a synonym for Tylenol. It's not anti-inflammatory but it is used to release pain of ulcers and other stomach problems.

You can crush the Tylenol and Advil and mix it up with any kind of lotion that you have at home. Apply it to the desired area 1 hour earlier before the treatment. And then cover it with a plastic wrap.

Aspirin is an anti-inflammatory medicine but it also takes away swelling and reduces the pain.

Ibuprofen is another name for Advil and Motrin an NSAID (non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug) that is commonly used for the relief of symptoms of arthritis, fever, primary dysmenorrhea (menstrual pains), and as an analgesic (a medication given to reduce pain without resulting in loss of consciousness).

Naproxen's another names are Anaprox, Naprelan, Naprosyn, Aleve, Mediproxen. It's anti-inflammatory as well and is used to reduce the muscle pain after working out.

It works by reducing hormones that cause inflammation and pain in the body. Naproxen is used to treat pain or inflammation caused by conditions such as arthritis, ankylosing spondylitis, tendinitis, bursitis, gout, or menstrual cramps.

NOTE: All these drugs are over the counter drugs and they might be able to assist you with your electrolysis treatments.

All of these medications contain Acetaminophen which is the same as Advil. You can experiment by adding one of these to the cream mix described on the left.

DRUGS THAT CONTAIN "CAINE"

There are many over the counter drugs, sprays and creams that contain benzocaine which successfully work for some people: Anbesol, Boil Ease, Cepacol Sore Throat, Cetacaine, Dermoplast, Exactacain, Hurrricane, Lanacane, Orabase with Benzocaine, and Skeeter Stik.

Below are the images of these products. They all contain benzocaine.

Amongst the others you might also want to try Dr.Numb. Different solutions work for different people.

Any over the counter cream for burns or sunburns might be able to ease the pain. Creams and gels like Solarcime, Banana Boat, and Water-Jel Burn might work for you if you apply them on the skin an hour before your electrolysis treatment.

Orajel 20% is successfully used in dentistry and it is over the counter drug that might help you to ease your discomfort.

NOTE: every "caine" ending medication is stronger if the percentage is higher. For example 20% is stronger than 5% one.

Americaine comes in a spray and a cream. They're both 20% which is very strong. You can give them a try. I've seen people who are successfully using these for electrolysis treatments. Americaine cream is for hemorrhoidal treatments and it is used to help your discomfort.

Numbing cream Super Numb contains 5% Lidocaine and it might work for you. Yet, as we mentioned everything with "caine" works better on the mucus membranes like mouth and intestines or injections but it may not work well on the skin. I've seen people who were using it and it worked for them. You never know until you try it!

HOMEOPATHY AND PAIN KILLERS

There are lots of interesting remedies in alternative medicine that work well as pain killers or reducer.

FAMILY OF "FREEZERS"

Fast Freeze comes as a spray, a cream and a roll-on and is used for pain management in injuries, muscle or joint pain.

Freeze It is another way to cool down your skin which helps nerve endings "relax" and not feel the discomfort.

Biofreeze and Max Freeze come as a spray, roll-on and a cream. They work exactly like Fast Freeze.

Traumeel reduces the pain, inflammation, swelling, and oozing. This drug is not researched yet. However, the kickboxers are using it for their bruises and injuries. This drug is a combination of Arnica and few other herbal remedies. Traumeel has little to no side effects.

T-Relief is produced by Traumeel and is used same way as other products: reduces the pain, inflammation, swelling, and oozing.

Arnica has been around for a while as a pain killer in homeopathy and has proved itself to be very effective.

Camphor Oil creates a tingling sensation on the skin and confuses the nerve endings which result in less discomfort when used in electrology.

Tea Tree Oil cools down the skin almost like Peppermint Oil and this action is confusing the nerve endings.

Peppermint and Spearmint have the same cooling effect on the skin as the Tea Tree Oil. They confuse the nerve endings and make electrolysis more tolerable on the skin.

Gold Bond lotions cool down the skin and even though they are not homeopathic lotions they still have an interesting effect on the skin. Experimenting will help you decide what works for you.

Icy Hot products contain Menthol which act like the Peppermint/ Spearmint oil. It creates a cooling effect on the skin and nerve endings don't respond to the pain as much. In other words, they get confused and as a result we have the benefit of less pain.

ARTHRITIS PAIN KILLERS

There are many pain relievers for arthritis and sore muscles. They penetrate the skin and reach the pain source. You can also try these because they help people with arthritis and it's worth a try.

Here is the list of some arthritis pain relievers. There are more but we couldn't possibly search all of them. Meanwhile, this list is a good start.

MOSQUITO OR INSECT BITE PAIN KILLERS

In summer we all get bitten by mosquitoes and not many people know that there are lots of over the counter mosquito bite creams. These creams get in our skin and calm down the itching and the pain. By experimenting with these you might find something that works for you. We all are so different we wouldn't know what works until we try it. Below is the list of mosquito bite creams.

NEW

NUMB MASTER

We keep updating our database of numbing agents. The Numb Master recently was used by one of our client very successfully, worked really well on chest thick hairs ans was able to provide the comfort during the treatment.

SOOTHANOL X2

Soothanol X2 main ingredients are pepper oil and menthol. Works great but heats up the skin for the first few seconds. After that skin gets less sensitive to the treatment and provides great comfort.

CAPSICUM OLEORESIN OIL

Capsicum Leoresin Oil works same as Soothanol, yet, later is much stronger. Some of our clients purchased it from ebay. The seller did not have separate image of the oil.

NEOSPORIN PAIN RELIEF OINTMENT

Surprisingly one of my clients told me this was the magic behind her calm visits in my office. This was even more surprising because she was using it to numb the skin on her face and she has very thick hairs. She is transitioning.

NOTE: when buy pay attention that this is the Neosporin with pain relief.
